

Expression of Interest

Royal Hobart Hospital Consumer and Community Engagement Council (RHH CCEC)

Royal Hobart Hospital recognises the importance of the community voice when making decisions about how we deliver health care.

Having community members in advisory roles makes sure that voice is heard when making decisions to improve.

Our Consumer and Community Engagement Council members contribute to and help our service by:

- planning improvements and changes in how we provide services, and, in the way, we do things.
- being part of our discussions on quality, safety, and patient experience.

Royal Hobart Hospital is continually looking for ways to improve our delivery of care for patients in our hospital and to provide better, safer care to our wider community.

This expression of interest is for membership of the RHH Consumer and Community Engagement Council.

Applicants must be over the age of 18 and have capacity to commit to monthly meetings.

CCEC members

- Actively participate in regular CCEC meetings to provide consumer focus at all levels of hospital and community decision making.
- Provide feedback on new programs, models of care and service delivery throughout the Tasmanian Health Service and specifically the RHH.
- Review patient and consumer focused publications.
- Participate in focus groups and staff committees.
- Participate in incident review discussion panels.
